Technology is best when it brings kids together

SCORPION®

Thank you AGAIN to Scorpion for another extremely generous donation of laptops and Macbooks. Scorpion is located in Velencia, California. For more than two decades, they have focused on a singular goal: help businesses succeed. No matter how things have changed or how they've grown, Scorpion has never lost sight of how it all started and why they're here. Check out their website at <https://www.scorpion.co>.

Tech4Kids' mission would absolutely not be possible if it were not for the outstanding support from Scorpion, our community, and charitable donations.

Reaching Out West

Tech4Kids is excited to be partnering with North Dakota's Gateway to Science in Bismarck. North Dakota's Gateway to Science began as the vision of community volunteers passionate about bringing informal science learning opportunities to people of all ages in North Dakota. In November 1994, Bismarck became the home of the first and only hands-on science center in North Dakota. Since that time, they have established a reputation as an educational resource for their community and region.

North Dakota's Gateway to Science will be a hub for Tech4Kids donations.
